2. They will be properly oriented with the CCRO's office operations by the Division heads from the Registration, Records and Population Program Divisions.
3. They are expected to devote their time by keenly observing the processes and transactions of the office and eventually be given a chance to personally assist in one of our services with the assistance and guidance of our frontline officers/ staff.
4. They must make use of their experience as Junior Registration Officers for this will be of great help in the dissemination of the importance of Civil Registration in our everyday lives.
5. Junior Officers may also serve as participants in the school's Vlog Contest. Their one-day exposure and immersion in the office will allow them to better understand and personally experience civil registration processes, familiarize themselves with the office setup, provide actual assistance to clients, observe various transactions, and witness how the frontline officers address the diverse concerns of clients on a daily basis. This firsthand experience will serve as a valuable source of ideas and content for their Vlog entry.
