Greetings from UPLB DevComSoc!

The UPLB Development Communicators' Society is a duly recognized academic organization that has been a venue for harnessing academic excellence, independence of thought, and leadership since 1972. For 49 years, the organization has continued to put a premium on serving the people, encouraging social change, and promoting the practice of development communication.

In light of our 51 years of service as an academic organization, the UPLB DevComSoc will be organizing an online conference entitled Panimulat 2024: Magsulat. Mag-ulat. Mamulat! With the year's theme, "Hayag-Layag: Pagsulat, Pag-ulat, Pagmulat ng mga salitang malaya at mapagpalaya". Formerly known as SULYAP, the organization decided to improve and widen its reach to further uphold and achieve our goals. The event aims to introduce the students to the field of Development Communication and encourage them to consider themselves as Development Communication practitioners in the future.

The said event will include two activities: (1) a feature writing contest and (2) a photo essay contest that will be held from April 30 until May 7 where prizes will be given to the winning participants. An online conference will also be held on May 18, 2024, via ZOOM. The event will be limited to Grade 11 students of any strand from different schools in the country. As such, UPLB DevComSoc would like to invite you and help us achieve the success of this event by giving us the seal of endorsement of your good office and aiding us in disseminating this information to various schools in the region.
